"Lessons Learned From the Government Contracts Battlefield," Presenter, National Contract Management Association (NCMA) World Congress 2016, July 2016.

Whether it is due to poor specifications, contract documents, or administration, contracts routinely experience problems and changed conditions, which result in excessive costs, time, and other impacts. This lessons-learned presentation will provide real-world examples of issues and disputes that arise under government contracts. Attendees will be walked through the techniques and procedures employed to help successfully resolve the disputes.
